

Barcelona Sofa

Famous for the paradigm 'Less is More', Bauhaus architect Mies Van Der Rohe designed a matching chair and ottoman for the German Pavilion at the Barcelona World Fair of 1929. The Pavilion itself was temporary, but the design of the chair endured: the Barcelona chair is one of the most recognisable furniture designs in the world.

Flat metal sections are interlaced and chrome plated to form the frame. Leather square upholstery and leather straps complement the external square frame. The seat cushion utilises moulded polyurethane foam.

This is a quality but affordable replica based on Van Der Rohe's original design. A popular choice for any reception area.

Features:

- Flat steel frame, chrome plated, hand polished
- Full leather buttoned upholstery (black or white leather only)
- Available as a single or double

Dimensions in mm

Single seater	Seat width 740	Overall Seat height 390	Seat depth 490
Double seater	Seat width 1390	Overall Seat height 390	Seat depth 490