

CASE STUDY – V/Line

Customer Overview

Uplifting Pole Mounts for the Station Master

V/Line is Australia's largest regional public transport operator. In 2014 -15 more than 15.04 million train and coach passenger trips were taken.

Responsible for the Victorian country rail network, V/Line uses a variety of Uplifting monitor arms including the Prima pole mount system at rural train stations throughout Victoria.

The requirement

Uplifting monitor arms are mainly used as an aid to ticket sales at point of sale retail locations and ticket windows on railway stations. The monitor arms are also used to hold monitors displaying real time rail network status and train updates within the station masters office.
